Subject: Genuine Job Creation to Reverse Global Economic Recession

Attention: Prime Minister Stephen Harper

My small business is having a hard time starting up due to the unavailability of funds in the present economic market. I find that your country offers no genuinely available funding source for me to expand or even continue my one employee operation. The problem is I'm producing all of the U.S. Patent Office's top marketable inventions and I am unable to attract business partners, angel investment, or purchasers for the patents. My theory is that without these new products coming on to the global market that new job creation has effectively dropped to zero. These new products would have an unsatisfied consumer demand that would create new employment for workers that have been displaced due to layoffs associated with satisfied consumer demand industries. In essence, what I'm saying is that the engine of economic drive is stalled and therefore the train won't roll. I'm wondering if you can create an economic program with an Experts Board to select the most promising patented ideas and actually invest public funds in the creation of additional inventions to propagate economic prosperity for your country. The way the present invention system is setup, the inventor is simply robbed of his invention thereby destroying the incentive to create.

In funding my company, your country will become the recipient of a guarantee that the startup businesses generated will be developed and provide employment for citizens of your country as much as is economically feasible, manufacturing where competitive, assembly, national, and world headquarters. This program could be used in conjunction with financial incentive programs to attract business to relocate into your country. This program has a much larger potential to create new jobs than existing programs. My grandfathers and I have created all or nearly all of the intellectual materials associated with all of the jobs that we currently have in the world.

Please get back to me as soon as possible and let us know what you think about my proposal.

Sincerely,
Michael R. Thomas, Master Inventor
